ADDRESS FROM THE ACADEMIC DIRECTOR OF PROMETHEUS SCHOOL

At Prometheus School, we believe that a school is more than just a place to study. It is a space where children discover their talents, learn to dream, ask questions, and joyfully explore the world around them.

Our approach combines academic depth with creativity, curiosity for research, and attention to the individual strengths of every child. We place special emphasis on Kazakh and English languages, mathematics, and natural sciences, integrating modern methodologies and project-based learning from the earliest years of education.

Through an extended curriculum, research projects, and interdisciplinary approaches, our students gain not only strong knowledge but also the ability to think independently, work in teams, and find creative solutions.

Our teaching staff consists of experienced and passionate professionals from Kazakhstan and abroad. They create a warm and inspiring atmosphere where every student feels comfortable, engaged, and motivated to learn.

At Prometheus School, we are building a school where children not only achieve academic excellence but also feel happy, confident, and prepared for life in the modern world.
